

Liver Bread Recipe (optional with tapioca)

Liver bread is a great treat for your dog. It is very easy to make and most of the dogs just love it and do a lot to get it.

It is also easy to handle and you can choose the size of the piece you use according to the reward you need (just break of the piece you want to use). In fact even cats love it.

500g chicken liver (pureed for example in a kitchen mixer)

1-2 eggs

1 kg flour

(optional: you can replace about 250g flour with Tapioka flour (sweetpotato flour), then you will get a more rubbery texture and you can cut the pieces much smaller and they will not scramble in your pocket – very helpful especially for small dogs)

1-2 tablespoons baking powder (depending if you prefer the liver bread softer or harder)

about 500 ml water

Mix all the ingredients together. Add water to get it soft enough to spread it easily on a baking tin covered with baking paper.

Bake it at 180°C for about 20-30 minutes.

It is useful to cut the warm liverbread into cubes of about 3x3cm (optional 0,5x0,5cm with tapioka flour), put them in a plastic bag and freeze it. When needed just take out as many pieces as you like, they will defrost very fast. You can cut or break the larger pieces into the required size.
